

June

Active Curious

ABOUT THIS FONT

This is a variable font concept designed between Fer Cozzi and Oscar Guerrero (Sumotype).

The idea was just have fun in isolation, but each one has fun differently.

Fer is represented by Curious, the right hemisphere, who tries to continually challenge herself by looking for new ways to express her ideas. She has a panoramic view, looks at the present and the future is impetuous, and takes risks.

On the other hand, Oscar is represented by Active, the left hemisphere, a structured way that follows a precise method step by step. This side would focus on details, perception of patterns, strategies, and practical things.

June's name is a tribute to June Almeida. She would become the first person to see a coronavirus using microscope techniques she developed.
